NJHA’s Partnership for Patients
Perinatal Safety Learning Collaborative
760 Alexander Road, Princeton, NJ

April 29, 2013

Registration: 8:30 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.
Program: 9:00 a.m. – 3:15 p.m.

For close to four years, the New Jersey Hospital Association and the state’s hospitals have engaged in a learning collaborative to improve the care and outcomes of laboring mothers and their children. The Partnership for Patients estimates that 30 percent of obstetrical adverse events are preventable. The goal set for hospitals is to cut the number of these preventable events in half by the end of this year, preventing nearly 100,000 obstetric adverse events during the initiative’s three years. Advancing the successes of the Statewide Perinatal Safety Collaborative, the work of hospitals continue as part of the New Jersey Hospital Engagement Network’s attention to perinatal care.

At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Identify risk factors associated with disparities in care and pre-term deliveries
- Discuss how inter-institutional collaboration can improve patient safety
- Relate individual hospital performance to the statewide work of the hospital engagement network related to early elective deliveries
- Summarize how New Jersey’s annual maternal mortality statistics influence practice change and further research in the field
- Explain the benefits of engaging leaders in the journey to become a Baby Friendly™ organization.
