

Edna Cadmus, PhD, RN, NEA-BC, FAAN
Clinical Professor, Director DNP Program-Leadership Track
Rutgers University College of Nursing

Credentials and Schools Attended:

2000 PhD in Nursing, Adelphi University, NY

1982 MA , Nursing Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, NY

1976 BSN, William Paterson University, NJ.

Career Progression:

My career started as a staff nurse at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in NY and progressed through multiple leadership roles including nurse manager in the Surgical Anesthesia Intensive Care Unit to Senior Clinical Manager for the Surgical Services. I then moved my career back to NJ where I served as the Director for the Critical Care Nursing Division and 16 of my 22 years as Senior Vice President for Patient Care Services at Englewood Hospital and Medical Center. In 2010, I was recruited to Rutgers College of Nursing as a Specialty Director for the development and implementation of the Graduate Leadership Tracks (BSN-MSN, MSN-DNP, and BSN-DNP). Additionally, I consult as part of my practice on Magnet standards-specifically focused on shared governance and the application process.
