

WELCOME TO WHITEFISH

GENUINELY FRIENDLY AND DOWN-TO-EARTH

The town's laid back atmosphere makes this community a happy and warm place to visit.

WHITEFISH ROCKS

170 million years ago, a collision of the Earth's plates elevated the mountain chains. Ever-increasing stresses near the end of this great event shoved a huge rock wedge skyward, many miles thick and hundreds of miles wide, giving birth to the Rocky Mountains.

Erosion by glaciers sculpted the Rockies into dramatic peaks and valleys—and it's our great fortune that we now get to play on the "Crown of the Continent"—a global treasure of intact wildlands in northwest Montana surrounding Glacier National Park.

Just over 100 years ago, Whitefish was born, a legacy of The Great Northern Railway that still lives on today. Hard-working folks have given our town a strong backbone, but having fun outdoors is what makes Whitefish really rock.

GREAT TIMES TO BE IN WHITEFISH

We love to have a good time and celebrate life with visitors to our little town. From the famous Winter Carnival to the weekly downtown Farmers' Market, we look for any excuse to throw a good party.

Fall Colors & Autumn Hiking: This is the bonus season of Whitefish when days are still warm and the Western Larch turn a brilliant gold, interspersed with the deep green of the fir, pine and spruce, with golden aspen and cottonwood.

Spring and Autumn On The Going-to-the-Sun Road: When the alpine sections of The Going-to-the-Sun Road are still under snow in the spring and fall, many miles are open to bikers and walkers looking to explore the secrets of the park.

Whitefish Before Christmas: After Thanksgiving, we dress the downtown with lights and garland and host the early December "Christmas Stroll" with roasted chestnuts on the street corners, horse-drawn wagon rides, carols and holiday crafts.

Winter Carnival: Our early February celebration is one of the defining events of our mountain community. Deep in the heart of the Montana winter, we dig out from under a blanket of snow for parades, ski joring, and a good dose of mid-winter cheer.

Spring Skiing & Pond Skimming: Late March and early April are superior times to be skiing here. The sun is often shining and the snow is still deep. We like to end the winter season with a splash—literally. Skiers and boarders compete to skim across an icy pond of water.

Airport Code FCA Kalispell, MT / Glacier Park (Just 15 minutes from Whitefish) Amtrak Code WFH (Arrives in downtown Whitefish)

ACTUALLY, IT'S EASY TO GET HERE. Direct flights from major cities into Glacier Park International Airport (only 15 minutes away) make getting to Whitefish a breeze.

CLOSE AND CONVENIENT

Whitefish is one of the closest mountain towns to a major airport. Once you arrive at Glacier Park International Airport from convenient hubs, you're only 15 minutes from town! Amtrak's® Empire Builder® arrives twice-daily at the historic Whitefish Railway Depot. Arriving by car is also easy—with roads that meander through some of the most beautiful landscapes in North America.

DO I NEED A CAR?

While Whitefish is a pedestrian-friendly town, a rental car is a great idea to help you explore the secret stashes of Glacier National Park or discover less-traveled areas that surround Whitefish.

THE SNOW BUS

During winter season, the SNOW Bus offers free transportation to and from downtown and Whitefish Mountain Resort, with bus stops at lodges, the aquatic and fitness center, ice skating rink, movie theaters, restaurants, and the Central Avenue shopping district.

ACTIVITIES & ADVENTURES

BREATHTAKING EXPERIENCES

In a storied landscape of unspoiled nature.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK

Whitefish is only 25 miles from Glacier National Park, a World Heritage Site, Biosphere Reserve, and the world's first International Peace Park. Naturalists programs include fireside talks, hikes and boat cruises where you can learn the history of the glaciated landscapes, mountain peaks, climate zones, native wildlife, flora and fauna. More than 700 miles of hiking trails provide opportunities to explore mountain lakes, glaciers, waterfalls, diverse plant and wildlife including bears, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, moose, and deer.

Exploring the Park: It's been called "the most beautiful piece of mountain road in the world" for good reason. A drive on the Going-to-the-Sun Road, an engineering marvel that spans 50 miles through the park's wild interior, is a highlight for seasonal visitors. A national historic landmark, it can be traveled by personal car, free park shuttle, a narrated "Jammer" red bus, or Native American "Sun" tour.

Glacier National Park in Winter: Experience the tranquility of Glacier National Park when it's covered in snow. During the quiet season, Going-to-the-Sun Road is plowed from West Glacier to Lake McDonald Lodge offering visitors a scenic drive and plenty of opportunities to snowshoe and cross country ski while watching for the wildlife that lingers in the snow. Ranger-led snowshoe hikes are offered on weekends in January, February and March from the Apgar Visitor Center.

HIKING & BIKING

Millions of acres of protected state and federal land surrounds Whitefish offering miles and miles of opportunities for exploring on foot or by bike. Glacier National Park and the Bob Marshall Wilderness are just the beginning of pristine backcountry available for hikers. Cyclists will find miles of quiet paved country roads ideal for road biking and plenty of singletrack will satisfy mountain bikers. Stop by Glacier Cyclery & Nordic, Great Northern Cycle & Ski or Sportsman & Ski Haus for trail information, rentals and advice. Looking to go out with some knowledgeable locals? Beyond the Boundaries offers guided mountain bike tours and teaches clinics for all abilities, or Glacier Adventure Guides offers guided hiking and biking excursions.

Siyeh Pass in Glacier National Park: Siyeh Pass is the highest elevation trail in Glacier Park at 8080 feet. Enjoy the high alpine splendor of this quintessential day hike (10.3 miles) from Siyeh Bend to Sunrift Gorge (you can take the free shuttle back to Siyeh Bend afterwards) through meadows of wildflowers and stands of subalpine fir and spruce into the high alpine with views of Mt. Siyeh, Going-to-the-Sun Mountain, Matahpi Peak, and St. Mary Lake in the distance. The trail features incredible red and green rock walls and terminal moraine formations around the Sexton Glacier. Keep your eyes peeled for mountain goats, bighorn sheep and sometimes grizzly and black bears.

Whitefish Trail: World class trails providing public access to public lands, the Whitefish Trail is at the heart of Whitefish. The trail consists of close to 30 miles of stacked loops, flow singletrack and scenic vistas, and is a favorite destination for hikers, trail runners, bikers and equestrians. Ongoing additions will eventually link 55-plus miles of trail surrounding Whitefish. The newest addition is Spencer Mountain, a collaboration with the local mountain bike club to create a network of freeride trails surrounded by the classic Whitefish Trail singletrack.

Danny On Trail: Starting in the Whitefish Mountain Resort village, this trail winds 3.8 or 5.6 miles through forest glades, huckleberry bushes, and wildflower meadows to the summit of Big Mountain. For an easy return, take the chair lift back down after a meal at the Summit House.

Pig Farms: A local's favorite for mountain biking and horse trail riding, the Pig Farms network of trails winds through woods and lakes. A state recreation license is required and available at Sportsman & Ski Haus or wherever fishing licenses are sold.

Lift-Accessed Biking: Whitefish Mountain Resort has 27 miles of lift-accessed and cross country mountain biking trails from the intermediate Summit Trail with sweeping views of the Flathead Valley, to the heart-pumping Freebird, and the award-winning flow of Kashmir.

Going-to-the-Sun Road in Glacier National Park: In the spring, a favorite way to enjoy the beauty of Glacier is pedaling or walking along the Going-to-the-Sun Road when sections are open to bike and foot traffic only. As the plows move their way up to Logan Pass, cyclists get a quiet glimpse into the heart of the park.

MILLIONS OF ACRES OF PROTECTED LANDS surround Whitefish offering miles and miles of recreational opportunities.

Bicycle Touring: Whitefish is on multiple cycling routes including the Great Divide Route and the Great Parks Route. A touring cyclist can find rest at the Whitefish Bike Retreat, in either a dorm-style lodge or tent site. The Bike Retreat is located along the Whitefish Trail, and is also a great jumping off point for mountain bikers wanting to stay in the heart of the trail system. Glacier Cyclery & Nordic is headquarters for cyclists needing repair or information on both road and off-road tour routes.

FISHING

Northwest Montana abounds with fishing opportunities. The local waters offer native westslope cutthroat, rainbow and brook trout.

Lakes: There are hundreds of lakes around Whitefish, many teeming with trout, perch, northern pike and bass. Drive to Beaver Lake or Upper Stillwater Lake, or take a hike to Chain Lakes and be rewarded with spectacular scenery while catching your dinner.

Flathead Rivers: Fishing the North Fork, Middle Fork and Main Stem of the Flathead River are excellent for a variety of species. Local fishing guide services can provide the latest information and guided trips.

PADDLING

From lake kayaking and canoe paddling to stand up paddleboarding and whitewater kayaking, the variety of lakes and rivers in and around Whitefish will inspire any paddler to action. The Whitefish River is typically slow moving enough to even allow for relatively easy paddling upstream. Always check locally for water conditions and river levels before venturing out.

WHITEWATER AND SCENIC RAFTING

Enjoy a guided trip on the Middle Fork of the Flathead River, along the southwestern boundary of Glacier National Park. Float the upper section for thrilling whitewater, or try the lower scenic section through a steep, walled canyon. The North Fork of the Flathead River offers mellow rapids and the most scenic views of Glacier.

IN AND AROUND WHITEFISH

You will become enchanted with the charming town of Whitefish, a perfect base for your stay in northwest Montana.

Downtown Farmers' Market: Every Tuesday, starting around Memorial Day through the end of September, local farmers, bakers and artisans gather at Depot Park for the market. Local musicians create the backdrop while market-goers stroll through the booths sampling everything from fresh cheese to famous Flathead Cherries. Shop local arts and crafts and enjoy dinner from one of the many food trucks that source fresh and local ingredients.

Kayaking on Bowman Lake in the fall brings quiet waters and yellow larch.

Central Avenue: Covered sidewalks line the downtown core adding to the character of town. A stroll along Central Ave and cross streets reveal a vibrant mix of traditional businesses like the hardware store and barbershops, interspersed with art galleries, boutiques, restaurants, coffee and ice cream shops. Catch a live theater or musical performance and finish the evening at the local brewery or with a signature cocktail at one of the many bars that source from regional distilleries.

Golf: Whitefish Lake Golf Club is the most requested 36-hole course in Montana. Every year, Whitefish continues to become better known as an incredible and affordable golf destination and has been rated one of the "50 Greatest Golf Destinations in the World" by Golf Digest.

Whitefish Dog Park: Hugh Rogers Wag Park is a five acre fenced off-leash dog area located within Armory Park, part of the City of Whitefish park system. A community-driven partnership with the city, W.A.G. (Whitefish Animal Group) recently added a pavilion, dog obstacle course and pond to the park.

Whitefish Skate Park: Another community-driven partnership with the city located within Armory Park is the world-class Dave Olseth Memorial Skate Park. The 15,000 square foot Dreamland Skate Park offers a unique layout including a 10' concrete bowl and multiple "street" elements and is open to skateboarders (helmets are recommended) from dawn 'til dusk each day. A must hit on the new circuit of parks around Montana making the state a major skateboard park destination.

WHITEFISH LAKE

Nestled at the edge of Whitefish, the lake is all that remains of an ice age glacier that flowed across the area. Today the lake is great for water sports and there are three primary public access points.

Les Mason State Park: Located along Lakeshore Drive on the northeast edge of Whitefish Lake, Les Mason offers a quieter side of the lake. A universally-accessible paved trail weaves its way through woods and picnic tables to a gravel beach popular with sun bathers and paddleboarders. A roped-off section of the beach provides a dog-friendly place to play. Park fees apply.

City Beach: A sandy beach, a large roped swimming area, a boat launch, and a grassy area with picnic tables and gazebos, are all hallmarks of Whitefish City Beach. An ideal swimming area, the water is shallow for a long distance before dropping off near the swimming platform.

Whitefish Lake State Park: This small park provides a picnic area, camping sites, swimming area and a boat launch. It is a favorite launching site to explore the undeveloped western shore. Park fees apply.

HORSE TRAIL RIDES

Saddle up for a ride through the countryside. The wranglers at the Bar W Guest Ranch lead you and your horse through some beautiful trails and give you a genuine dose of Montana hospitality. Gather up the family for a wagon or sleigh ride followed by a hearty dinner at the Ranch.

WHITEFISH MOUNTAIN RESORT

Summer at the ski resort just keeps getting better. While the wildflowers bloom, adventure is in full color.

Skiing & Snowboarding: Over 300 inches of Rocky Mountain snowfall covers 3000 acres of glades, groomers, bowls and steeps. New expanded terrain includes groomed intermediate runs and steep glades for the expert skier. Known for the incredible scenic backdrop of Glacier National Park, SKI magazine ranked Whitefish Mountain Resort the #13 top-ranked western resort for 2015.

Summer Activities: From mid June through the end of September, Whitefish Mountain Resort is a basecamp for adventure.

Zip Line Tours: Strap on a paragliding-style harness and follow two guides on a thrill of a lifetime. Seven separate spans offer side-by-side zipping on the longest zip tour in Montana. Five and seven zip tours are available offering an exhilarating experience with views of the Flathead Valley.

Walk in the Treetops: Experience the forest canopy from an elevated boardwalk. Naturalist guides lead guests on a half mile hike through an old growth forest before clipping in to safety wires to see the forest from the treetops—up to 70 feet in the air.

Scenic Lift Rides: Take an open chair or a gondola to the Summit for views of Glacier National Park and the Flathead Valley. The Summit House is open for lunch and the Summit Nature Center offers guided wildflower hikes and gives kids a chance to be a Junior Forest Ranger.

Alpine Slide: Grab a sled and cruise down the Alpine Slide through dips, banked corners and tunnels. Fun for ages 1-101.

Aerial Adventure Park: Five courses featuring over 60 elements, including suspended bridges, cable walkways, zip lines, nets and ladders, make up an obstacle course in the trees on this two-hour unguided adventure for ages 7 and up.

CROSS COUNTRY & BACKCOUNTRY SKIING

Nordic Centers: Glide through winter on a pair of classic or skate Nordic skis. The Glacier Nordic Center, located at the Whitefish Lake Golf Course, offers 15km of groomed and track set trails, some lit at night. Glacier Cyclery's Nordic Shop offers lesson and rentals on site. Stillwater Mountain Lodge gives skiers a pristine experience on over 20km of trail near Beaver Lake. Several tracks are open for skiers and their dogs to enjoy together. Round Meadows, just north of town, is managed by the Forest Service and groomed intermittently, allowing skiers, snowshoers and dogs on the trails.

Backcountry Skiing: Enjoy fresh powder with the Great Northern Powder Guides. Expert guides provide the ultimate snow cat backcountry experience in the versatile terrain of the Whitefish Range. Or take a guided backcountry ski (or snowshoe) tour with Glacier Adventure Guides in some of the spectacular areas of Glacier National Park.

OTHER WINTER ADVENTURES

Snowshoeing: Options for a snowy walk are seemingly endless, but popular destinations are Glacier National Park, Whitefish Lake, Whitefish Mountain Resort (visit the resort's website for the uphill policy) and Round Meadows. Rentals are available at multiple shops around town.

Ride the scenic lift in the summer for views over Whitefish Lake and beyond.

Sleigh Rides: Snuggle up in a horse-drawn sled at the Bar W Guest Ranch. Follow up with a family-style home-cooked meal for a nostalgic evening with family and friends.

Ice Rink: The Stumptown Ice Den offers public skating, lessons, rentals and curling on an indoor rink. Or catch a Whitefish Wolverines hockey game for an evening of fun.

Snowmobiling: Hundreds of miles of trails are groomed throughout the Stillwater State Forest and Flathead National Forest. Daily guided tours are provided from the summit of Whitefish Mountain Resort.

Dog Sledding: Winter Woods Dog Sled Tours lets guests be in the driver's seat giving them an actual mushing experience while traveling by sled through the fairy tale-like setting.

Snow Biking: Try winter mountain biking with bikes built for the snow. Demo bikes are available at all local bike shops and at the Whitefish Bike Retreat. The Whitefish Trail, Whitefish Lake and Round Meadows are favorite snow biking locales.

AWARD-WINNING CUISINE, world-class wine selections, and great service.

KNOWN FOR award-winning cuisine, world-class wine selections, and great service, Whitefish exceeds dining expectations. Culinary discoveries abound, offering nearly every variety of style and fare. Many local chefs pride themselves on use of fresh local organic vegetables, fruits and meats. Each dining experience is a new opportunity to savor the tastes of local flavor.

WINE MATTERS

Many restaurateurs and retailers in Whitefish take their wine seriously, doing the good work of researching, tasting and selecting some of the finest wines in the world. Restaurants boast extensive wine lists and professional staff who are knowledgeable in the art of food and wine pairing. Both Alpine Village Market and Markus Foods offer world class wine selections.

LOCAL FOOD MATTERS

The Downtown Farmers' Market is just the tip of the local food economy in Whitefish. While locals and visitors come to stock up on the fresh weekly harvest, restaurant chefs plan out menus based on what is in season. Nourish the Flathead puts out a Farm Hands map identifying the working farms of the Flathead Valley and which restaurants source local ingredients.

NIGHTLIFE MATTERS

After exploring mountains, trails and rivers, relax in the adventurous personalities of the many bars and saloons that line downtown. Sip a pint of locally-brewed beer at Great Northern Brewing Company or enjoy a sunset cocktail at the Boat Club or Casey's Sky Bar. From acoustic guitar at a wine bar to a live band to dance the night away, live music can be found almost every night of the week.

THE ARTS ARE AS ABUNDANT AS TREES AND MOUNTAINS

Local art is manifested through paintings, sculptures, jewelry, and pottery, as well as the performing arts, literature and film.

THE ARTS AND CULTURAL pursuits are intensely vibrant and heartfelt in Whitefish. Professional Broadway actors headline theater performances and art galleries exhibit well-known sculptors and painters. Take a walk around town and it becomes apparent how expressions of the town's history, culture and the arts are not just the pursuit of a few aficionados, but woven completely into the community fabric.

Art adorns the sides of historic buildings, connecting generations. Hundreds of sculptors, craftsmen, photographers, painters, authors and other artisans call Whitefish home while many of the shops are filled with their work.

During Whitefish Gallery Nights, the art community comes together to showcase featured art exhibits and entertainment on the first Thursday of the month from May through October. Shops and galleries are open late and feature light refreshments to encourage mingling and connecting with featured artists.

The non-profit, community-supported Stumptown Art Studio is conveniently located on Central Avenue where the public is invited to walk-in at any time to pursue a creative endeavor. Supplies for glass fusing, ceramic painting and mosaic making are provided daily or sign up in advance for a workshop on precious metal and clay, encaustic painting or furniture making.

But the arts and culture in Whitefish are not only presented through visual art. Music, readings and the theater are now a mainstay—with regular live music at bars and concerts with national recording artists. The Whitefish Review, a non-profit journal of art, literature and photography, hosts poetry and literature readings by renowned authors and emerging voices.

The Whitefish Theatre Company has celebrated over 30 years as a non-profit, community-based performing arts organization. The O'Shaughnessy Cultural Arts Center hosts professional plays, comedy, musicals, concerts, and classic and independent films throughout the year.

Housed in the restored Whitefish Performing Arts Center, the Alpine Theatre Project is Montana's only professional equity summer theater, and is billed as "Broadway's Second Home." Founded by three Broadway veterans, ATP brings theater professionals and productions fresh off the boards of New York and other major cities, to the intimacy of Whitefish.

The Stumptown Historical Society staffs the Whitefish Museum located in the historic Railway Depot showcasing railroad and community artifacts and stories of days gone by.
