Introduction

New Jersey hospitals are a vital public resource. They serve nearly 15 million patients annually, providing healthcare services to all, regardless of their ability to pay. But the contributions of New Jersey's hospitals extend far beyond their healthcare services. Hospitals also are economic strongholds; they are dependable sources of jobs, income taxes and spending that help stabilize their communities through good times and bad.

New Jersey's acute care hospitals provide substantial contributions to the state's economy. In 2018, New Jersey hospitals delivered:

- $24.7 billion in total expenditures
- $3.7 billion in purchased services
- Nearly 120,000 full-time equivalent jobs and total employment of over 154,000 full- and part-time positions
- Over $9 billion in total employee salaries
- Over $500 million in state income taxes paid by hospital employees
- $682 million in charity care services to New Jersey's working poor and other uninsured residents.

Healthcare is the only industry that has added jobs in the state every year from 1990 through 2017 while increasing its share of jobholding from 7.5 percent in 1990 to 11.9 percent in 2017. According to the New Jersey Department of Labor, the outlook for healthcare employment in the Garden State is bright. From 2016 through 2026, it is projected that 78,300 jobs will be added, an annual increase of 1.5 percent. Healthcare cluster employment is comprised of three industry groups: ambulatory healthcare services (48 percent), hospitals (33 percent) and nursing and residential care facilities (19 percent).

Hospital contributions ripple across New Jersey, providing economic stability to the state, its counties and to individual communities. In many towns, the local hospital is the largest employer, providing untold benefits in jobs and health insurance coverage, local spending and community health services.

The pages that follow detail the many economic contributions of New Jersey's hospitals. The information is presented statewide and also for New Jersey's 21 counties. In addition, hospital-specific reports show the important contributions of hospitals to their local communities. Together, this data paints a compelling picture of the compassionate care and economic stability delivered by New Jersey's hospital community.

About This Report

The information provided in this report was compiled by NJHA's Health Economics based on 2018 cost reports from 71 acute care hospitals filed with the New Jersey Department of Health, along with other publicly available data sources.

- New Jersey's general hospitals are predominantly not-for-profit entities — any excess revenue over expenses is returned to the community in the form of new medical technology, expanded hospital services, maintenance and expansion of physical infrastructure and the enhanced ability to hire and maintain skilled workforce.
