OVERVIEW:

With a growing emphasis on quality reporting and documentation, nurse leaders are now diving into data analytics. In many hospitals, nurse leaders are tasked with monitoring quality and value based metrics that affect their organization. Without today's technology, analyzing the data that feeds quality improvement projects would be a tedious, manual process. That's why nurses are increasingly turning to technology that can provide support for performance improvement.

This webinar will discuss operational impact and ways nurse leaders can work smarter not harder by using their data analytic skills.

LEARNER OUTCOME:

After successfully completing the course, the learner will identify one approach in using data analytics to enhance operational impact, transferrable to their organization.*

Successful completion of the webinar is defined as attendance of 95% of the learning session and a complete course evaluation.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

Nurse leaders, aspiring nurse leaders, long-term care facility administrators, quality improvement managers.
