Bank fees are complex. Often they are bundled, masked and hard to detect. Most organizations just budget to pay these fees, neglecting to even consider renegotiating them. Those organizations that try to renegotiate are usually at the mercy of the bank because they lack substantial information to leverage their accounts for a more fair fee structure.

This imbalance is over with new NJHA Strategic Partner F.E. DiBacco, Inc., specialists in the review of corporate and institutional depository relationships.

During this webinar, you will learn how F.E. DiBacco's extensive historical banking data, coupled with its proprietary and patented software, can verify that pricing is fair and equitable or NOT! F.E. DiBacco drills down into each account to analyze the pricing by product groups.

Hospitals that work with F.E. DiBacco will be equipped with incisive information to renegotiate their fee structure.

F.E. DiBacco works with notable Fortune 500 companies and numerous New Jersey and Pennsylvania hospitals. NJHA utilized their services and experienced a 36 percent reduction in its own bank fees.
