

Improving Transitions of Care Across the Continuum

March 19, 2019 | NJHA Conference and Event Center, 760 Alexander Rd., Princeton, N.J. 08540

Registration | 8:30 a.m.

Fee | Free

Program | 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Optional Lunch: $30/person

Seminar | EDU 1923

OVERVIEW:

This conference will address issues that impact transitions of care for patients and families across the continuum. Participants will gain knowledge regarding strategies to improve outcomes for complex patients, reduce readmissions and develop sustainable healthcare community coalitions.

OBJECTIVES:

- Describe interventions that assist patients and families to achieve a successful care transition experience across care settings
- Outline the benefits of engaging community stakeholders in patient transitions of care post-discharge
- Define how a collaborative approach can improve outcomes for behavioral health patient populations
- Understand the impact of care transitions from the patient perspective

INSTRUCTIONS for TEAM STORYBOARD PRESENTATIONS:

All organizations participating in the conference are encouraged to create and present a storyboard outlining their efforts in improving transitions of care for their patient populations.

Topics could include:

- Describe one quality improvement project that improved their organization's readmission rates in 2018
- How an organization engaged patients and families in transition of care education
- Examples of interdisciplinary collaboration to improve transitions of care

Storyboards should be no more than 9 PowerPoint slides printed and placed on a tri-fold board.

When you arrive the morning of the learning session, you will receive information indicating which table location your storyboard will be posted on. The session will be held in a gallery format with teams walking through and viewing individual storyboards.

One team member should be stationed at the storyboard to present the slides to participants during the designated session.

Please RSVP your storyboard topic to Shannon Davila at sdavila@njha.com

LEARNER OUTCOME:

After successfully completing the course, the learner will identify two strategies to improve outcomes for complex patients to improve transitions of care for patients and families across the continuum.

Successful completion of the course is defined as in-person attendance for 95 percent of the didactic learning session and a complete course evaluation.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

Acute care, post-acute care, home health, public health nurses, physicians, pharmacist, care coordination and discharge planners
