

17TH ANNUAL RESEARCH DAY CONFERENCE

HOW TO RESEARCH YOUR PASSION

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 2019

7:30 A.M. - 3:30 P.M.

NJHA Conference and Event Center
760 Alexander Road, Princeton, NJ

Sponsored by: Organization of Nurse Leaders, NJ

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Passions, and the deeper inner purpose from which they emanate, play a pivotal role in how leaders manage talent, the way teams work and communicate effectively, and how each member of an organization engages with the challenges of the business to achieve outstanding results. In today's highly commoditized world, nurse leaders face challenges on leveraging not only the skills of their team, but also understanding and harnessing the passions of each individual in order to build and maintain a competitive edge and healthy workforce environment.

Every individual has gifts and talents that can make a lasting impact. However, only a minority of people utilize those gifts and talents to live up to their full potential. Tying your gifts and talents to research with your personal purpose and passion, not only leads to a more successful career, but a significant one.

Most organizations focus on skills and experience when developing top talent or creating teams, but overlook the important factor that determines long-term success. In a word, that factor is "passion." If you ever thought about doing research but wondered whether you have the ability, this conference will provide the tools for novice and expert researchers to build and refine skills.

Join ONL NJ in exploring the elements for conducting research and how to ignite your passion to transform practice through research.
