ANNUAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

SEPTEMBER 23, 2013 ■ THE CONFERENCE & EVENT CENTER, PRINCETON, NJ

The Institute for Quality and Patient Safety enters its 11th year facilitating collaborative efforts to improve quality of care and patient safety throughout New Jersey's healthcare community and receiving the honor of being recognized as one of only 26 hospital engagement networks in the country. As part of the Partnership for Patients, New Jersey is poised to further the work of the Institute through widespread dissemination of evidence-based clinical practices and resources for providers and community partners. Partnership for Patients-NJ, in its second of a two-year initiative to improve care and reduce costs, continues to foster the work of New Jersey providers as they focus on eliminating harm and improving clinical outcomes in our state.

The 11th Anniversary of the Institute's Annual Leadership Summit is an opportunity for thought provoking discussion for C-suite leaders and patient safety professionals with some of the industry's leading experts to help further engage health care leaders in the redesign of the state's care delivery systems. With an agenda that will act as a backdrop for strategic initiatives at the provider level, participants will hear from:

JAMES ORLIKOFF, Senior consultant to the Center for Healthcare Governance and the national advisor on Governance and Leadership to the American Hospital Association and Health Forum

DAVID B. NASH, MD, MBA, Internationally renowned leader in outcomes management and physician leadership and founding dean of the Jefferson School of Population Health and the Dr. Raymond C. and Doris N. Grandon Professor of Health Policy

JONATHAN WELCH, MD, MSC, instructor in Medicine at Harvard Medical School and an attending emergency physician at the Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, and featured contributor to Health Affairs, the Washington Post, the Chicago Tribune, and Roll Call

LAURIE GAIL JACOBS, MD, professor of Clinical Medicine and vice chairman, Department of Medicine, Clinical and Educational Programs, Albert Einstein College of Medicine & Montefiore Medical Center; board member of the American Geriatrics Society and editorial advisory board member of the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society

ELLA D. AUCHINCLOSS, MTS, founder of the Diomass Leadership Development Initiative, member of the Leading Change Network, and Director of Re-Think Health, the core initiative of the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation

OBJECTIVES:

At the conclusion of this activity participants should be able to:

- Discuss the importance of engaging senior leadership and board members in quality and patient safety efforts.
- Consider how citizen engagement, systems thinking and multi-stakeholder stewardship can complement current Triple Aim strategies.
- Identify innovative approaches to elder care and opportunities to engage communities in redesigning systems to provide for chronic care management, improved end of life care and aging in place.
- Relate the importance of engaging patients and family so that their experiences over time help to shape the organization's perspective on what to do when bad things happen.
- Describe how work such as the Partnership for Patients will help eliminate harm, improve quality of patient care and reduce healthcare costs in New Jersey.
